Engage prekindergarten students with nature and incorporate reading, songs and creativity into their exploration. Students will surround themselves with nature as they hike along our trails and take trailside breaks to listen to a read-aloud that brings the book’s pages to life through the plants and wildlife surrounding them. A creative, nature-themed craft time awaits participants upon their return.

Howard County Conservancy’s new nature center on the grounds of Belmont Manor and Historic Park in Elkridge will host this program. Students are welcome to stay for lunch afterwards. Ideal group size is less than 50, but accommodations can be made for larger groups.

For additional information, or to make reservations call 410-465-8337 or email belmont@hcconservancy.org

Price per student $6.00; no charge for teachers and chaperones.